

Rachel Olivant

I qualified as a primary school teacher in 2000 and have taught in a variety of different types of schools within Essex, Bath, Cornwall and Devon. Prior to starting at Woodwater I was Assistant Head teacher at a large primary school in Cornwall as well as undertaking moderation and support work for the local authority. I moved with my family to Devon and started working at Woodwater in 2014, initially as a class teacher, then as Deputy Head of School and now as Acting Head of School. It is a privilege to work in and lead a school where the staff and governors have children at the heart of everything they do.
